

President Says West Has Big H-Bomb Lead

State Highway Engineers Prepare Route 611 Thru-Way Plans

Roads Would Pass South Of Borough

GOV. GEORGE M. Leader has advised Stroudsburg Council by letter that the administration's State Highway Department is already working on engineering for a thru-way which will route highway 611 traffic outside the borough.

The letter was followed by another from Secretary of Highways Joseph J. Lawler which reiterated the report and advised that Route 611 traffic would be eased away from Stroudsburg somewhere between Water Gap and Stroudsburg and brought back into existing 611 somewhere north of Stroudsburg.

Both Gov. Leader and Mr. Lawler advised council that as soon as some plans are ready, Mr. Lawler will discuss them with borough authorities to determine what plan will be of greatest benefit.

Both letters were in answer to a resolution adopted by council on February 2 asking Gov. Leader to have a thru-way engineered to relieve the borough of oppressive traffic conditions.

Prior to adoption of the resolution Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris had contacted Mr. Lawler personally and won from him an assurance that the Stroudsburg traffic problem would receive full consideration.

Council adopted the 1955 budget calling for expenditures of $204,947 against cash on hand and receipts of $206,979.90.

The sewer account budget calls for expenditures of $49,852.50 against cash on hand and receipts of $60,633.05.

A tax ordinance fixing the same rates as last year, 17.5 mills and another re-enacting the same per capita tax—$5—were adopted.

Also adopted was the police pension plan ordinance.

Secretary Harold Snyder advised that an amendment to parking ordinance which would change parking to 9-30 p.m. Friday nights, to coincide with new store hours, and cut parking meter time back to 6 p.m. Saturday had not been published.

The change is therefore not in effect. Mr. Snyder said rumors reported by police that merchants might change their minds caused the delay.

Army Finds Olson Guilty

FT. BRAGG, N. C., March 2 (AP)—M. Sgt. William H. Olson, a veteran of two wars and a prisoner in both, was convicted by an Army court-martial tonight of aiding the enemy while a prisoner of war in North Korea.

The eight-member court deliberated about six hours before holding the 40-year-old Army career man guilty on three of seven specifications of collaborating with the Chinese Reds.

Sentence will be passed tomorrow morning. Maximum penalty is death, the minimum a reprimand.

The three specifications on which he was held guilty charged that Olson made speeches derogatory to the United States and wrote pro-Communist articles in a prison camp newspaper.

Originally charged in eight specifications, Olson was acquitted on four and the eighth was dropped shortly after his trial opened Feb. 24. One of the specifications on which he was held innocent accused him of informing on fellow prisoners.

Olson, a native of Youngville, Pa., but now a resident of nearby Lumberton, was visibly shaken by the verdict and with tears in his eyes told reporters afterwards:

"I feel I was not the only man on trial in this case. Every man who was a prisoner of war or who will be a prisoner of war was on trial."

The three-week trial saw testimony by 31 prosecution and 29 defense witnesses.

Olson, who also was a prisoner of the Germans in World War II, defended himself by testifying he followed instructions of the Chinese Red officers because he feared for his life.

Immigration Act Revision Will Aid Further Russian Agents, Rep. Walter Charges

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Rep. Walter (D—Pa.) told the House today that sponsors of a bill to revise the McCarran-Walter immigration law are hatching a "truly devilish scheme to... give aid and comfort to future Moscow agents."

Chief sponsors of the bill are Sen. Lehman (D—Lib—NY) and Rep. Celler (D—NY). Twelve other Senators and seven other House members have also signed as sponsors.

"The intention seems not to abolish (immigration) quotas but to reallocate them so as to put the whole western hemisphere under a quota, and thus to destroy our good relations with our closest neighbors," Walter said.

"It is a truly devilish scheme to turn our Canadian and Latin American friends away from us and to give aid and comfort to future Moscow agents like Arbenz of Guatemala."

"The timing is good. It is as good as the best Kremlin tradition. Latin-America is now, after Asia, the number one target of international communism."

The revision bill would abolish the national origins system under which quotas are allotted by formula to nations in relation to the extent their nationals immigrated to the United States at about the turn of the century.

"I would much prefer that visas be allocated under a formula devised by mathematicians rather than under one controlled by politicians," Walter told the House.

He said it was "untrue" that the present law, as contended by revision sponsors, exerts "senseless cruelty" against arriving aliens or that it creates an American "Iron Curtain."

Young Father Confesses Mutilation Slaying Of Ann Yarrow In New York

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—A slightly built young father, prey to wild, lustful urges, was held without bail today in the inhuman sex mutilation slaying of coed Ann Yarrow.

He purportedly confessed that the passing sight of her on the street aroused within him a murderous passion. Despite this, his pregnant wife stood by him, pledging her undying love and maintaining his innocence.

He is William P. Farrell, 25, a brown-haired 5-foot-6-inch wood finisher. He was seized yesterday after he allegedly raped his widowed sister-in-law in a seedy Greenwich Village fringe area a block from the tenement where the New York University graduate student was slain Feb. 6.

Farrell has a sex record dating back 10 years.

"When a man is sick he is not a criminal," his court-appointed lawyer, Benjamin Schmier, maintained. "He's just a sick man and the law will treat him as such."

Schmier claimed Farrell is subject to overpowering urges to hurt women—"so overpowering that he became a wild man."

Farrell's wife, Marilyn, 24, refused to believe her husband guilty. "He did not kill this girl," she insisted. "He's a good man. He was home with me and my family that Saturday night. We often read and discussed this case and there never was any hint that he was in any way involved."

Nevertheless, police claimed an admission from Farrell that he took a fancy to Miss Yarrow on the street, followed her home and forced his way in to rape and slay her.

After hours of questioning, Farrell told reporters he felt better to have gotten things off his chest. Then he hungrily devoured sandwiches, cake, a roll and four containers of coffee.

Sent to Bellevue Hospital for mental examination, Farrell claimed his wife tightly before he was led away. She kissed him again and again and sobbed:

"I'll always love you. I'll always be with you."

"I love you," replied Farrell, close to tears.

He is expected to spend at least a month at Bellevue while psychiatrists determine if he is sane enough to face prosecution.

The 23-year-old Miss Yarrow was found strangled, raped and sexually mutilated with 37 stab wounds.

Her nearly nude body was sprawled on a mattress, which served as the only bed in a run-down three-room walkup she had borrowed from a friend, Herta Payson. Miss Payson found the body when she returned from a 10-day trip.

A brilliant, idealistic girl who reportedly brooded about men, Ann was on the plump and plain side. She was a devout Quaker, member of a faith that shuns all forms of violence.

Farrell was arrested yesterday after his widowed sister-in-law, Mrs. Irene Miller, 26, said he robbed her and raped her at knifepoint. During questioning about this case, Farrell reportedly conceded to cops that it wasn't the first time he had used a knife on a woman. The officers immediately pounced on this statement to connect Farrell with the Yarrow slaying.

U. S. Priest Ousted From Soviet Union

MOSCOW, Thursday, March 3 (AP)—The Soviet government has ordered the only foreign Roman Catholic priest in Russia to get out of the country by Saturday.

He is an American, the Rev. George Bissonnette of Central Falls, R. I.

Western observers surmised the expulsion might be an act of retaliation for treatment accorded a Soviet churchman in the United States, which has protested the order.

(The Assumptionist Order in the United States said it would apply soon to the Soviet government for permission to send a replacement for Father Bissonnette, The Rev. Louis F. Dion already has been chosen as a replacement.

Father Bissonnette was called in by the police yesterday and told to get out of the Soviet Union within a few days. No reason was given.

(In Washington the State Department said it had protested the expulsion as violating the 1933 agreement under which the United States recognized Russia. The State Department said the agreement guaranteed freedom of conscience and religious worship for Americans residing in Russia.

(The State Department said the U.S. Embassy in Moscow was notified of the expulsion order last Saturday, to take effect next Saturday, and the Embassy filed a protest today.)

Diplomats said the expulsion order perhaps was connected with the return to Moscow last night of Metropolitan Boris, of the Russian Orthodox Church, from New York. Boris had complained the American government had made it impossible for him to stay there.

Father Bissonnette, 33, has been in the Soviet Union since Jan. 14, 1953, and speaks Russian fluently.

He was the latest in a series of Assumptionist priests who have served in Moscow under terms of the agreement President Roosevelt signed with Maxim Litvinov, then Soviet foreign minister, that provided that a U.S. citizen could come to Moscow to minister to the religious needs of the foreign colony.

There are no other foreign clergymen stationed here on a regular basis.

Father Bissonnette planned to say mass this morning, and this probably will be his last religious service in this Communist capital.

There was no indication whether a successor for Father Bissonnette would be admitted to this country.

Russia Fires Two Leaders

LONDON, March 2 (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin's government today fired two ministers and demoted a third. The shakeup, affecting coal and agriculture, underscored the troubles Russia is having with its internal economy.

The governmental changes, announced by Moscow radio, were the second within two days.

The radio broadcast said the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet made the changes on Bulganin's recommendation. The Presidium under the constitution is the highest state authority when the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, is not in session.

The broadcast said the Presidium had decided to release A. S. Zasyadko as minister of the coal industry "because of unsatisfactory work." A. N. Zademidko was named to succeed him.

Also released was A. I. Kozlov as minister of state farms "because he failed to cope with the work." To succeed him is I. A. Benediktov who was minister of agriculture. No successor to Benediktov was announced.

Benediktov has been demoted from the job held for many years as official directly in charge of Russia's agriculture ministry. He has been under fire of late for failures in Soviet agriculture.

Georgi M. Malenkov also became entangled in the agricultural situation and cited it as a reason for his resignation as premier Feb. 8.

He was replaced by A. I. Mikoyan, who was minister of foreign affairs.

1953 Stroke Completely Paralyzed Churchill, Removing Chance For Big Three Talks Then

LONDON, March 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed to the House of Commons tonight that for a time in 1953 he was completely paralyzed. The 86-year-old statesman today shows few effects of the stroke that felled him.

Until tonight neither Commons nor the British public had been told of the serious nature of Churchill's illness. He retired from public view for a month in 1953 for the announced reason he needed a rest. An indication of Churchill's illness had been reported abroad, however. The Associated Press last June reported the Prime Minister had fought his way back to health after a stroke that deprived him of speech for a time.

The disclosure to Parliament came—with no apparent advance planning—during a debate on relations with the United States.

The Prime Minister said President Eisenhower held aloof from Churchill's plan for Big Three talks immediately following Stalin's death. Churchill said his plan for the meeting ended because of his illness.

"I was struck down by a very sudden illness which paralyzed me completely physically," Churchill said. "I had to put it all off, and it was not found possible to persuade President Eisenhower to join in the process."

Churchill was paralyzed on his left side for a few days, the well-informed parliamentary correspondent of Press Assn. said tonight.

Churchill revealed his illness when leaving Laborite Aneurin Bevan attacked what the Prime Minister must have regarded as the foundations of American-British friendship.

Bevan said Britain is in a position where she risks extinction in a nuclear war but "cannot reach the potential enemy in time to arrive at an accommodation with him because we are now at the mercy of the United States."

Churchill replied: "It is absolutely wrong to suggest that the course we have followed has been at the dictation of the United States."

Then the Prime Minister added that his hopes for top level talks in 1953 had been lost but placed the main emphasis for this on his illness.

Churchill said he is still trying for such talks—at the right time. He has made it clear he thinks the Big Three might reach some understanding that would free mankind from the fears of a hydrogen bomb war.

Churchill said, however, that Communist jitters over the rearming of West Germany have blocked the path toward such talks.

Churchill said he had even considered going alone to meet the Russian leaders to pave the way for a later Big Three parley.

The Laborites attacked the Churchill government's defense planning for next year, contending it did not fully comprehend the changes wrought by the hydrogen bomb.

There are rumors Churchill will retire soon—as there have been for years. But there are also stories he might lead his party again at the next general election, now expected to come either this fall or in the spring of 1956.

Time Expected To Lessen Difference

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Western world still leads Russia in atomic and hydrogen weapons. But he said it is problematical "how long that lead can be sustained."

Eisenhower also told a news conference:

"There comes a time, possibly when a lead is not significant in the defensive arrangements of a country. If you get enough of a particular type of weapon, I doubt that it is particularly important to have a lot more of it."

It would be unwise, the President said, to attempt any fixed conclusion as to whether Russia might pull even with the West in three or four years.

The chief executive's remarks were touched off by a question about a statement yesterday by Prime Minister Churchill of Britain that the United States now has many times as much strength as Russia in hydrogen bombs. However, Churchill said that in two to four years the Soviets will be able to mount an all-out nuclear attack against this country.

Churchill's views are known to coincide with those of top American strategists.

With heavy emphasis, Eisenhower said reports that an American expedition to the Antarctic is seeking new proving grounds for nuclear weapons are "absolutely without foundation." The expedition, he said, is for scientific purposes in connection with an international geophysical year in 1957-58.

The conference ranged over a wide assortment of domestic and foreign policy questions.

In high good humor, the President brushed aside as usual all attempts to smoke him out on his intentions toward trying for another term in 1956. He might, he said, discuss the pros and cons a year from now—provided there is a "complete moratorium" on the subject in the meantime.

There was a loud, one-word answer—"no"—and a salvo of laughter to a question whether his preference for San Francisco and its climate meant it could be taken for granted that Eisenhower would attend the GOP National Convention there next year. A "yes" might have indicated he intended to go out to accept the party nomination.

The President scoffed at the idea of an "indispensable man" in politics. It would be a calamity, he said, when such a man "went the way of all flesh."

Eisenhower opened the conference with greetings to Pope Pius XII on his 79th birthday. He praised the pontiff's "unbroken record of opposition to all forms of fascism and communism."

He saluted, too, the "brilliant record" of Ambassador Jefferson Caffery, retiring from the U.S. diplomatic service after 44 years.

Then, in reply to questions, the chief executive touched on these additional topics:

Labor Merger—he said he doubts that any organization, resulting from the projected merger of the AFL and CIO can get itself up as "the bosses of any great number of Americans" in "all phases of their political and economic and cultural life." He added a belief that "these people are going to be fairly independent politically, as always."

Chinese War—Eisenhower said "the United States is not going to be a party to an aggressive war." He said that was the best answer he could make to a question whether the United States has given the Chinese Nationalists any reason to expect American support for an invasion of the RED Chinese mainland.

Soviet Farmers—if it were not for inhibitions and limitations arising from the world situation, the President said he "couldn't imagine anything better than to have some of their agricultural people visit our agricultural people." This has been proposed by the Des Moines, Iowa, Register and endorsed by a Russian publication. One of the difficulties, Eisenhower said, is "in clearing things legally."

Wheat for Russia—Eisenhower said there is no purpose and no plan under study at this time "for sending any grain of any kind to Russia." Russia, he said, has been exporting grain and this country has no report that Russia really is short of it.

Economic Disarmament—Eisenhower said "it is not only just for Lent, it is for the whole year."

Congress Pay Boost Signed Into Law By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed the Congress pay raise bill today and said he was happy that Congress had voted it.

In his comment, at a news conference, the President also dropped in a plug for four-year terms for members of the House. Their terms now run only two years; senators are elected for six years.

The new law raises the pay of members of the House and Senate from $15,000 to $25,500, a jump of $7,500 or 50 per cent.

It also raises the pay of approximately 400 judges by $7,500 to $10,000. There are also increases for U.S. attorneys and their assistants.

Federal district judges who have been getting $15,000 a year will now get $22,500, higher court judges who have been getting $17,500 will now get $25,500. Associate justices of the Supreme Court get a raise of $10,000 to $35.00 and the chief justice will get $35,500 instead of $25,500.

All of the pay raises are effective as of yesterday.

Eisenhower said with a grin that Congress members should be paid well but not to forget that the government would get half of it back in income taxes.

Actually, the amount of tax will vary according to whether members have outside income and if so, how much. In the case of a very wealthy lawmaker, the tax rate runs as high as 90 per cent.

But, taking a member who has no outside income, uses the standard income tax deduction permitted anybody, plus the $3,000 tax-free deduction permitted members of Congress for maintaining two homes, one in Washington, and assuming he has a wife but no other dependent—

At the present salary basis, his tax would be $2,148. With the raise, his tax would be $4,362 or almost 30 per cent of the $7,500 raise.

Eisenhower said members of Congress have unusual expenses, including the need for maintaining two homes and the need of going back to their districts from time to time. He said the pay boost fitted into the idea of encouraging good men of modest means to serve their country.

During the past two anniversaries of his election and coronation, the Pope was too ill to participate.

His private physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, said today that ray treatment is to continue for a sore shoulder that has bothered the Pope in the past few days. The doctor emphasized, however, that the ailment is not serious and that the Pope's general condition continues to improve.

Registration Of Lobbyists Proposed In Bill Proposed By Democratic Legislators

HARRISBURG, March 2 (AP)—The administration's plan to register state capitol lobbyists and turn a spotlight on their activities reached the legislature today. It was accomplished by a pledge it is not designed to impose "undue restraint."

Designed to fulfill a party platform pledge, three Democrats introduced the proposal to require all lobbyists to register with both House and Senate and to submit monthly accountings of contributions they receive and their expenses.

Lobbyists also would have to state who they work for or who they represent in attempting to influence the passage of legislation.

"We are not going to try to rush this thing through," said Rep. Albert S. Readinger, House Democratic leader. "It deserves a careful study and will get it."

"We are not trying to impose any undue restraint and we aren't after any specific type of lobbyist. After all, lobbying is a legitimate and important function no one desires to impede its proper use."

Readinger added that "lobbyists are the voice of the people and the people have the right to petition the legislature at any time."

The House received the bill at a until Monday afternoon. The Senate adjourned yesterday until Monday.

In other House developments a clarifying amendment was tacked on to the Senate-approved proposal for an investigation of conditions at the Laurelton State Village in Union County.

The House Rules Committee, before approving the measure, changed it to delete reference to the Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee which originally was charged with making the inquiry.

Before approving the resolution the Senate inserted a provision for the appointment of four senators and four representatives to conduct the survey. However, the original references to the senate's standing committee was not deleted.

Readinger said the Laurelton proposal would be passed by the House Monday and sent back to the Senate for agreement on the change. The resolution is the result of charges by Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro that some patients received inhuman treatment.

Meanwhile the House Rules Committee approved a proposal to ask Gov. George M. Leader for the details concerning state contracts totaling $85,000 awarded to accounting firms.

The firms were hired to look into state accounting methods.

House Lifts Ban On Soil Payments

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The House today passed a bill aimed at lifting a restriction Congress imposed last year on soil conservation payments. The bill passed on voice vote. Under an amendment written into the farm law last year, no such payment can be made to any farmer who "knowingly" harvests any basic commodity in excess of his acreage allotment.

Duplication, Confusion, Waste

The Hoover Commission, in one field of its assignment to ferret out waste and inefficiency in our federal government, just completed survey of Uncle Sam's health and medical services and posted its recommendations.

Its diagnosis: "A cumbersome system which breeds inefficiency and huge waste" with 66 separate federal agencies operating in "duplication and even competition."

Its prescription: "The formation of a Federal Advisory Council of Health to review and coordinate the whole works with an eye toward consolidating and eliminating many of the health and medical programs now carried forward by the Federal Government."

All told, the Hoover Commission offered 20 separate recommendations for greater economy and efficiency. Many of them are not new and have been obvious for some time, such as tightening up on free hospital care.

Many of the other recommendations, such as the free care proposal bring immediate reaction and disagreement, but no one can sincerely challenge the key recommendations to form a central, over-all agency and wring some semblance of order out of this crazy-quilt pattern of spending.

As proposed this council would be made up of outstanding members of the medical profession and lay members with distinguished records in other fields. It is foolish to assume, however, that this council can accomplish a thing in its role is to be purely an advisory one. It will have to be given power to accomplish specified directives, knocking some heads together if it has to, especially among the competing branches of military service.

The scope of the federal government's health and medical program is probably unknown to the greater portion of our citizens. Its size may stagger many of them. Here it is:

Out of a total population of 160 million Americans, 30 millions now receive either complete or partial hospital and medical care from various agencies of the Federal Government.

All of this adds up to an annual bill, paid out of tax money, of $4,119,000,000, half of this in disability allowances.

It's a massive operation with 66 separate agencies falling all over each other.

That's the reason for "duplications and even competition." Some coordination and reasonable control must be imposed—before the situation and the waste worsens.

Good Cause, Sound Results

The Heart Fund Campaign has exceeded its $3,000 goal and there's still returns coming from the red plastic heart collection containers scattered in public places around the county.

The Woman's Club of Stroudsburg, sponsors of the Heart Campaign this year, made a major contribution in the way of sound planning, organization and effort.

But the success of this campaign is evidence again of the fact that the citizens of Monroe County meet their responsibilities when the cause is good, when they know what the money is for and how it is spent.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Attlee Should Realize One 7th Fleet Moves Chou En-Lai Will Take Hongkong

The question might reasonably be asked why, if the British object to American intervention in Formosa, which is about 100 miles from the mainland of China, do they not give up Hongkong which is actually within China? The British not only hold the rocky island of Hongkong but also Kowloon and the Leased Territories which are on the mainland of China.

Surely it is just as offensive to the Chinese people to see a foreign flag fly over Kowloon as it is for them to know that the United States is assisting the Chinese on Formosa to hold that island as an anti-Communist outpost. Formosa was Japanese territory from 1895 to 1945 and therefore the Chinese are accustomed to foreign possession of that territory as they are to the British possession of Hongkong, since 1841, most of whose inhabitants are Chinese.

Hongkong is a lovely island which rises to a peak, on which lives the British Governor-General. In my day, residence on the island was graduated in the sense that the Chinese mass lived at the base of the hill; then came the poorer Eurasians and Portuguese; above them were the rich Chinese merchants, including those who had emerged to importance as British subjects; above them were the "white men" also graded upward to the Peak. Those who lived on the Peak were regarded as closer to Heaven and acted accordingly.

Business was and is being done in the narrow crowded streets at the base of the hill and in Kowloon, which houses factories, warehouses (godowns), airfields, etc. Hongkong has a wonderful harbor for ocean-going ships.

The Pearl River leads to Canton, where the British used to own most of an island called the Shamen. The big ocean-liners transferred their goods at Hongkong to river steamers which went up to Canton. Hongkong grew rich as the port for Canton.

Dr. Sun Yat-sen's plans for the future of China always involved the elimination of Hongkong. In his work, "The International Development of China," published in 1920, Dr. Sun wrote:

"Canton's position as a seaport has been taken away by Hongkong since its cession to England after the Opium War. But as a commercial center of South China, Canton still holds its own, despite the advantages of deep-water harbor, the artificial improvements of Hongkong, and the political dominance of England. The loss of its position as a seaport is entirely due to the ignorance of the Chinese people who never made any combined effort to improve the welfare of the country, and also to the corrupt government and officials of the Chinese dynasty. Since the establishment of the Republic, the people have begun to awake very rapidly and many schemes have been suggested to make Canton a seaport. This awakening of the millions of Chinese has caused much apprehension to the Hongkong Government. The authorities of that colony have been doing their utmost to hinder every move to restore Canton as a seaport and try to nip every scheme in the bud. Of course, if Canton is improved and made into a world port, then all the services that Hongkong performs for her as a shipping stage would be dispensed with altogether . . ."

The British will, of course, not give up Hongkong. It is too valuable a possession. They have been laboring valiantly these many years, since the end of World War Two, to ditch the American policy in China because they have feared the loss of Hongkong and generally speaking, most Americans have favored the retention of Hongkong by the British, if for no other reason than that Americans trade there too, and Hongkong is an excellent listening post, in fact the best in the Far East.

However, if the British continue to make themselves so objectionable about American policy in Formosa, why not raise the issue of Hongkong? If any of us get out, why should not all the Westerners get out?

Those British Labour Party leaders, who are so insistent that the United States get out of Formosa and that Chiang Kai-shek be deported to Napeleone's St. Helena, might read a bit of Chinese history. China has never recognized the British possession of Hongkong or Kowloon as a right but as an act of force. How long does Mr. Attlee believe that Chou En-lai will accept this act of force once the United States has withdrawn its Seventh Fleet?

hundreds of construction workers. In spite of the efforts of Pocono Mt. Area businessmen through the Chamber of Commerce to increase employment at fair wage rates, there has always been the rumor that the Chamber is opposed to new industries coming into the area.

How any sane person can believe this story is beyond my comprehension, for we all know that the more employment at good wages means more money to be spent for the things we business men sell. It means more homes to be built, more food, furniture, clothing and luxuries to be purchased.

If the CLU wants more of the same things the Chamber of Commerce wants, why not urge their members to join the Chamber, as well as the business and professional men they patronize.

My America

People Cannot Be Packed Into Mass Of Trained Seals

A few weeks ago I heard Joseph Wood Krutch trying to put into a nutshell for Faye Emerson the theme of his new book, "The Measure of Man," which recently won a National Bookmen's award.

Some of the prejudices he voiced sounded enough like my own to make me think I'd like to read the book. So now, by dint of stubborn perseverance and great strength of character, I have mused my way through the first hundred pages and I'll read the rest, if it kills me. I like to finish what I start.

I am prepared to say that Mr. Krutch would have done better to leave his idea in the nutshell. It made more sense the way he told it to Miss Emerson than it does when stretched out to full book-length. As a philosophical writer Mr. Krutch is a firm believer in the axiom: "A straight line is the shortest distance between two points." Man, is he roundabout!

In the first third of his book he undertakes to establish the premise that people nowadays think of man as "largely if not absolutely determined, predictable and controllable"—a mere robot that follows blindly a behavior pattern punched out by past conditioning and current outside pressures. Having built up this straw man, he presumably plans to knock the stuffing out of it in the last part of the book.

In effect he says, "Most people think black is white. I shall now prove that they are all wrong."

Disconcerting as it may be to him, I've got news for Mr. Krutch. A lot of people don't believe black is white. Maybe the ones he sees think they have no freedom of choice—that all their thoughts and actions are determined by their past experiences and the forces in their present environment. But the people I see think otherwise. If anything, they think they have more control over their lives than they actually have. And they do some of the most improbable things.

Even if it should be true that people are helpless slaves of circumstances and conditioning, Mr. Krutch is unduly alarmed about the outlook. It doesn't follow that they can be molded into a single pack of trained seals by law schemes using thought-control and propaganda techniques.

The circumstances by which people have been conditioned and the pressures to which they respond are so many and varied that what people do might as well reflect free choice, whether it does or not.

Worry-warts who are concerned about the "curse of conformity" can relax. We're still a long way from being able to predict what an individual will do in a given situation by studying his past conditioning and subjecting him to further conditioning.

We're lucky if we can guess why he did what he did after he's done it.

Try and Stop Me

Nobody ever expected that the Nuthall's gangling, ambitious young son would ever amount to a darn—but on the day he was nineteen, he staggered the neighborhood—his parents most of all—by getting the daughter of the richest man in town to say she'd be his. The wedding actually took place, too, causing skeptics to lose a couple of inebriated bets. The lad slipped a ring on his betrothed's finger, mumbling, "With all my worldly goods I thee endow."

"Halt!" chorled Mrs. Nuthall's best friend (absolutely green with envy), "there goes young Nuthall's bicycle."

The broadcasting company had thrown a big party for a California star, passing through on his way to London. The next day, one of the guests, still shaky on his feet, asked an associate, "What do you take for a headache?"

How any sane person can believe this story is beyond my comprehension, for we all know that the more employment at good wages means more money to be spent for the things we business men sell. It means more homes to be built, more food, furniture, clothing and luxuries to be purchased.

If the CLU wants more of the same things the Chamber of Commerce wants, why not urge their members to join the Chamber, as well as the business and professional men they patronize.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Air To Air Atomic Missile Fired In Nevada A-Tests

Washington, March 3—Those atomic tests taking place on the great firing range in Nevada have already scored one spectacular success.

It's an astounding new weapon—an air-to-air missile. This unique atomic projectile, fired from a jet plane, has the awesome capability of annihilating aircraft within a considerable radius.

Other equally extraordinary new weapons are slated to be tested, in these experiments which are now expected to continue until May, owing to delays because of adverse weather conditions.

One of these innovations is the "brush-fire" bomb. This relatively small nuclear destroyer could be of particular use in the event of war with Red China.

The amazing air-to-air missile is the result of developments in design, timing controls and various other devices which make it possible to retain great destructive power in a compact projectile.

This new atomic weapon has not yet been fired from a plane. It was tested from a stationary mechanism. But this experiment was highly successful, and fully proved the combat effectiveness of the missile. It is destined for use by both the Air Force and the Navy.

The "brush-fire" bomb, as ordnance experts cryptically call it, can be made with an explosive force equivalent to 7,000 tons of TNT.

Such a seven kiloton weapon can be "delivered" by a jet fighter-bomber. This makes it particularly adaptable for aircraft carriers, some of which are already equipped with A-bomb casings. The "brush-fire" bomb is deemed especially effective against troop concentrations, airfields, and massed artillery such as the Reds now have along the coast in the Formosa area.

Following is one expert's description of nuclear weapons: "An atomic bomb's explosive power is determined by the number of chain-reacting neutrons which can be induced to make their escape at precisely the same instant. That is largely determined by the design of the weapon."

Note: The current series of Nevada tests are significant for another, unannounced reason: The cost of nuclear weapons is now much less than a few years ago. That is strikingly indicated by the large number of scheduled explosions as compared to previous tests. Atomic weapons are still more expensive than conventional ones, but no longer extremely so.

Loaded Gun—Attorney General Herbert Brownell may get more than he asked for on his proposal that Congress authorize $500,000 as rewards for information about individuals attempting to smuggle atomic weapons into the U. S.

House Democratic leaders are privately planning to use this request to put over an investigation of the Customs Bureau and Immigration Service.

At an unannounced party meeting, both agencies were charged with bungling and incompetence and vigorous demands were made that they be probed.

Democratic Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass., was particularly outspoken on the matter. He was not opposed to Brownell's plan to guard against a "sneak atomic attack," but McCormack urged going further and including action against dope and alien smuggling.

"I've been getting a lot of information which indicates there is something radically wrong with the functioning of these two agencies," said McCormack. "I've been told that Customs enforcement has been drastically reduced, and that the Immigration Service has been shot to pieces. I have been authoritatively advised that at times the major ports of the country are virtually unprotected."

For example: Ninety-five per cent of mail packages from abroad are not subjected to any examination at all, and those that are get only the scantiest kind of screening. I have also been informed that ships and planes are more or less unsearched, and the luggage of passengers is only spot-checked."

Representatives George Miller, Calif., and Hale Boggs, La., said they had received similar reports from their constituents.

"The Attorney General wants Congress to provide $200,000 for rewards against the smuggling of atomic weapons," continued McCormack. "That's all right as far as it goes, but it's not very realistic when the Customs Bureau and Immigration Service have been shot to pieces so that they aren't enforcing very effectively the laws against smuggling of narcotics and aliens. It seems to me that before anything is done, we should find out what's wrong with these two agencies first."

This view was strongly seconded by Representative Sidney Yates, Ill., Edward Boland, Mass., and Clarence Cannon, Mo., chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee.

Speaker Sam Rayburn said he would take up the matter with Senator Clinton Anderson (D., N. M.), head of the Joint Atomic Committee, for possible concerted action in both chambers.

Three Faiths Help Needy Of World

—by H. G. Heller

Three great religious faiths in America, whose independent efforts in the cause of overseas relief and reconstruction have made a major contribution to brotherhood, understanding and mutual faith, embark on special programs in the next six weeks.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths are currently engaged in their annual appeals with which to support the world-wide projects of their overseas relief organizations whose continuing programs aid millions of hungry, homeless and destitute people in areas of distress abroad.

Through the efforts of the religious faiths—made possible by response to speak appeals in their houses of worship and in Sabbath schools—literally hundreds of millions of pounds of food, clothing, medicines and other supplies will go this year to victims of war, flood, famine and disaster in parts of the free world.

Through them, also, refugees from oppression will be cared for, orphanages and hospitals will be maintained, uprooted peoples will be rehabilitated and resettled, thousands will be taught new skills to make them self-sufficient, depleted and disaster-stricken farm areas will get new supplies of tools, seeds, livestock, and other necessary agricultural equipment.

Major portion of the funds necessary to this great work—all done without question as to race, color or creed of those benefiting—will be raised in the appeals currently being made independently within the religious faith groups.

These appeals are: The "One Great Hour of Sharing" Appeal—sponsored for major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox Churches by Church World Service, a central department of National Council of Churches—with special observances in many communities on Sunday, March 20.

"The Bishops' Fund For The Victims of War"—sponsored by the administrative board of the Roman Catholic Bishops of the U. S., with special offerings made also March 20 (Lent Sunday)—for overseas relief work through the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

"The Passover Appeal" of the United Jewish Appeal—sponsored by the Synagogue Council of America—currently underway and culminating during the traditional Passover celebration, this year during the week of April 7-14.

Through these appeals, these three great religious groups keep the faith on which eventual peace and security—so eagerly sought by all men of good will—will be built.

Stroudsburg Council Awards Contract For Street Projects

Yaggie Bids $10,850 For Curbs, Cutters

FIRST CONTRACT of a series dealing with another extensive program of street improvement and curb and gutter work was awarded last night by Stroudsburg council to Charles Yaggie, East Stroudsburg contractor.

Mr. Yaggie bid $10,850 for construction of 6,380 lineal feet of curb and gutter on North Eighth St., Oak St., Wallace St., from Brown St. to borough line and the south side of Phillips St.

Council authorized an amendment to the ordinance covering Phillips St. to include the north side of that street from Lindbergh Ave. to Eighth St.

Soon to be read for curb and gutter bids are plans and specifications covering Lenox St., Colbert St., Lee Ave., Collins St., the remaining portion of Houston and Stokes Avenues. In the case of the last two mentioned streets, new street construction and some drainage will also be installed.

Bids on a new police car were opened, but held until an adjourned meeting on March 16, when when the entire council will be present. Absent last night were President Edward R. Lawson and Councilman Dan Warner. Councilman H. G. Heller acted as temporary chairman of the meeting.

Capt. Gerald Heckman appeared for a third time regarding the legality of street lines on Stofflet St.

He was advised to turn any new material he has over to Attorney George T. Robinson, solicitor, who was not present last night. It was also suggested that all councilmen view the street situation pending Mr. Robinson's return from a vacation.

Clarence Seip, chief of Civil Defense auxiliary police, asked council to set aside $400 for coveralls for the auxiliary police operation in Stroudsburg. Russell Williams, Stroudsburg Civil Defense leader and Major William D. Plummer, director of auxiliary police school here, accompanied Mr. Seip. Major Plummer described the duties of the police and the need for the distinctive coveralls, helmet and auxiliary police badge in time of emergency or disaster. Council unanimously approved the allocation of $400 for the coveralls.

Brink's Robbery Suspect Released

HOUSTON, Tex., March 2 (AP)—FBI agents said today they have questioned a man about the $1,219,600 Brink's robbery in 1950 in Boston but said they have "no further interest in the man."

"We have no reason to believe he knows anything about the Brink's case," an FBI spokesman said.

The man is being held in Baytown, 25 miles east of Houston, in the investigation of a local robbery.

Assignment Of Cop Basis For Complaint

COUNCILMAN Edward A. Doran last night filed a complaint with Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris about the continued stationing of Officer Russell Decker on traffic duty at 7th and Ann St.

Mr. Doran said he is being blamed for the stationing of Decker in all kinds of weather at this traffic post and that he is receiving complaints each day.

Mr. Harris advised Mr. Doran that under the law neither he nor any other member of council has anything to say about police assignments or the manner in which they are put to work.

Mr. Doran said Decker "should have a break," and that he (Doran) did not want to bear the blame of the complaints if the law as regulated the matter.

The chief Burgess advised that the law is very clear on the point—he, and he alone, is responsible for the manner in which the police operate.

That was in an aside while he was saying he was happy Congress had voted for a pay raise for itself and federal judges. As for the $7,500 boost for Congress members, the President said "we will get half of it back (in taxes), don't forget that."

Taxes—Eisenhower said he was "highly gratified" that the Senate Finance Committee has rejected a $20 tax cut for everybody Jan. 1. Democrats pushed it through the House over administration opposition.

Teachers Strike In Irving, Tex.

IRVING, Tex., March 2 (AP)—Both sides strengthened forces today in a strike by a large segment of teachers and other employees of the Irving school system.

All teachers who failed to report for duty or who failed to say they would return were discharged automatically today.

Yesterday the school board fired seven principals and two other executives, all strikers.

The teachers and workers struck yesterday to protest the firing of Dr. John L. Beard, 53, superintendent of schools. There were no pickets, and police assigned to the schools were idle.

Kirkridge Retreat House Construction Started In 1943, Not Yet Completed

By Peter Olwyler

A HOUSE DEDICATED to God stands on one of the highest mountains in the Poconos.

The idea behind the house is equally high. The house is strikingly modern in design. The idea behind it is as old as Christianity—or older.

The place is known as Kirkridge. Kirk is the Scottish word for church. The building itself stands on a long, wooded ridge, looking toward the south and east. Its square windows face a tremendous territory. The building is washed almost eternally by strong mountain winds and bared to the rain and sun.

The motorist cannot see it as he drives south from Stroudsburg to Bangor over Route 90. His car crests the steepest portion of the mountain. At his left an unobstructed dirt, lane, rutted now deep in mud, leads off between the trees along the ridge.

There is no sign. No cross. No symbol. If the motorist knows, he follows the path.

At the end of the path, a third of a mile from the highway, lies Kirkridge. The only sound is the wind.

In sturdy, roughly-pentagonal form, stand the walls of rough fieldstone, handsome square beams, wood and glass. At the back, a weathered oblong sign rests against the low building near the door. It answers the unuttered question of the curious visitor who climbs from the valley to this wind-drenched edifice:

"KIRKBRIDGE—A RELIGIOUS RETREAT HOUSE BEING BUILT TO THE GLORY OF GOD. RELATED TO THE NEAREST FARM HOUSE SEEN BELOW. ENJOY THE VIEWS, DRINK ITS WATERS, LEAVE IT WITH YOUR BLESSINGS."

In the valley below is another sign: "Kirkridge" . . . with an arrow. It points to a small, elderly white farmhouse and a series of small cubicle-like shacks. All are closed. The farmhouse is locked. John Platt is the secretary of Kirkridge Association, and he lives in a wood and stone home on the opposite side of the highway.

From his book-lined livingroom he can look out on either the old-fashioned white-painted Kirkridge across the road, or at the modern Kirkridge on the crest of the ridge high above.

DR. JOHN Oliver Nelson of Yale Divinity School is the president and organizer of Kirkridge, Platt tells, and the idea behind the association is a simple one.

In a pamphlet explaining Kirkridge, Dr. Nelson says: "The claim has been made that 'retreat' is the last-ditch defense of the Church' in our time when secularism floods in upon us with an instant flood of television, ringing phones, traffic, advertising, and all the confusion of modern life. In such a situation there is more urgent need than Christianity has ever felt before, to withdraw and renew perspective. . . ."

Following up his thought, Dr. Nelson organized Kirkridge in 1942. A year later the structure on the ridge was begun. Meanwhile the farmhouse in the valley was used for retreats.

The building on the ridge is not yet finished, though it has been "building" since 1943. It is divided into two major parts. The upper portion is a large, central room in pentagonal shape. Heavy beams radiate outward from the stone fireplace and support the ceiling and roof. There is a small kitchen at the back.

There is modern but simple furniture. A single strong tone denotes the religious nature of the building: a simple hewn wooden cross set into the stone over the fireplace.

In the lower portion of the building are rooms with comfortable beds, handsome and unadorned wood paneling.

Dr. Nelson says the purpose of the Catholic and Protestant retreat is in general identical: "To purify oneself . . . regain a sense of direction and of communion with God . . . and to return to everyday life strengthened by its duties. . . ."

Kirkridge is Protestant. When formed, its board of governors was composed of Presbyterians. Now it includes Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists, Evangelical and Reformed, and other sects, Platt says.

Anyone may make a retreat at Kirkridge. Retreatants have come from all over the nation, from Canada and Mexico, Platt says. Ministers or laymen may join the retreats—many local ones do. There are days for men, and days for women.

Retreats consist in large part of periods of silence—used for meditation, walks, communion with God; periods of manual work; instruction under guidance of a leader; group worship; and individual devotion, which is the purpose of the retreat in most cases.

To date there is no system for heating Kirkridge Retreat House against the bitter cold of the mountain. That will be about the final step, Platt says, in making Kirkridge and its purpose available throughout the long year.

Sheerin Files $75,000 Suit For Damages

A $75,000 DAMAGE suit was filed in the office of Clerks of the Courts James Gould against a Stroudsburg man yesterday in connection with a July 28, 1954, traffic accident in Stroud Township.

The trespass action was filed by Forrest J. Mervine in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sheerin and their daughter, Moya, 16, of Scranton.

Defendant is listed as Walter W. Thompson, 50 S. Second St., Stroudsburg.

The complaint alleges that Sheerin was driving south, three miles north of Stroudsburg on Route 611, and Thompson was going north. Sheerin claims Thompson pulled out to pass a car, and collided with the Sheerin auto.

The complaint says Sheerin's car was wrecked, and he suffered compound fractures of the hip, back, pelvis, left knee and shin. His wife and daughter were also injured, according to the complaint.

Plaintiffs are seeking $50,000 for Sheerin, $20,000 for his wife, and $5,000 for his daughter.

Ban On Water Use Lifted In East Borough

EAST STROUDSBURG residents may use their hoses and outdoor water taps again.

Borough Council has repealed an ordinance which forbade outside water use. The ordinance was passed last year as an emergency measure. The water level of the reservoir had reached a critically low point, council learned, and the ordinance was passed to help conserve the supply.

Engineer Edward C. Hess and Borough Superintendent Henry Lesone at this week's meeting reported the level in the reservoir at a safer point, but indicated that water should not "be used excessively" or wastefully.

Accordingly, council repealed the ordinance, thus clearing the way for housewives to hose down their porches and wash their windows from the outside.

Mahany Promises Decision On Support For Building Dams On Delaware River

HARRISBURG, March 2 (AP)—A Senate Republican decision by next week on whether to support a plan to build two Delaware River dams was promised today by Sen. Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford).

The Senate GOP floor leader and other Pennsylvania legislators conferred with a delegation of New Jersey lawmakers for more than two hours on Delaware River water supply problems.

Meanwhile, Gov. George M. Leader entered the picture by inviting New Jersey's Gov. Robert B. Meyner to confer here Friday on the overall water conservation and development situation in the Delaware Valley.

Leader met today with Philadelphia's Mayor Joseph S. Clark, who reported that the city has no objection to building the dams upriver.

An administration spokesman said at the same time that the outlook is bright for the enabling legislation to be passed by the Pennsylvania General Assembly by July 1.

That date was set when New Jersey last year passed a similar bill to join in construction of the dams. Should Pennsylvania join in the move, legislation would have to be passed later to provide funds to build the structures.

Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., New Jersey Senate GOP floor leader who headed today's visiting delegation, warned there is a "good chance" his state will proceed on its own unless Pennsylvania acts by July 1.

That would mean construction of a dam and reservoir for New Jersey use at Round Valley in Hunterdon County.

Under the plan now being pressed an impounding dam would be built at Wallpack Bend, above the Delaware Water Gap, and a diversion dam in the vicinity of Yardley, Bucks County.

Democratic support of the bill, introduced by Sen. Joseph J. Yuskoski (D-Northampton), appeared assured in the Pennsylvania Senate.

"I personally think it's very good legislation," said Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, who participated in the parley with the five-member New Jersey delegation.

Republican Floor Leader Mahany, however, said he could not say "yes or no on whether we're going to pass Yuskoski's bill."

He said further study will be made and GOP senators will be briefed next week by William Schnader, Philadelphia attorney on further details of the Delaware River water supply situation.

Charles Dippre Succumbs At Gas Station

CHARLES Dippre, 49, of 1809 N. Fifth St., Stroud Township, suffered a fatal heart attack at 6:50 p. m. yesterday while working at the George Weiss Service Station.

The heart attack was cited as the cause of death by Dr. Perry Stearns, deputy coroner, who visited the station at N. Fifth and Avenue F.

State Troopers Peter Walsh and Joseph Murphy of the Stroudsburg substation said Dr. Marshall Metzgar, who was summoned to the scene first, pronounced Dippre dead.

Police said Dippre had been at work at the service station during the day, but had complained of "indigestion" and feeling ill. He went home for supper, police said, then returned to do some night work.

Police said owner Weiss was giving Dippre some instructions when the employee collapsed into his arms.

Dippre had been employed at the station since it opened last summer. He previously worked for McConnell's Taxi Co. The deceased was born in Newburgh, N. Y., a son of the late Joseph and Helen Hannas Dippre, but had lived most of his life in the Stroudsburgs. He was a member of the Eagles Lodge of Stroudsburg.

Surviving are his wife, Pearl, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Keiper and Mrs. Joseph Fetherman, both of Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Robert Crane, East Stroudsburg; three grandchildren; five brothers, Walter, Pittsburgh; Robert, Franklin and Harold, East Stroudsburg and Carl, Stroudsburg; two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Detrick and Mrs. Joseph Ruggiero, East Stroudsburg.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Lancaster funeral home with Rev. Harold C. Eaton officiating. Interment will be in Sand Hill Cemetery at Bushkill.

Friends and relatives may pay their respects Saturday from 7 to 9 p. m. at the funeral home.

Matusow Rifled Dorm, Says Witness

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Investigating senators today produced an affidavit stating there is "reliable information" that turnabout witness Harvey Matusow rifled a students' dormitory at Antioch College while investigating alleged Communism there.

The sworn statement came from John J. Edmiston, a reporter for the Middletown, Ohio, Journal, and his wife, Martha, both former undercover workers for the FBI. After it was placed in evidence at a hearing being conducted by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, Matusow swore he had never been accused of the offense. Antioch is located at Yellow Springs, Ohio.

"What else do you expect from professional witnesses?" Matusow exclaimed.

At the request of his attorney, Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) ordered that subpoenas be issued for the Edmiston to appear before the subcommittee next Monday afternoon. Their affidavit was dated Feb. 14 at Middletown. Matusow and the Edmiston were formerly close friends, according to other evidence. Today's stormy hearing also brought these other developments:

1. Matusow testified his past testimony linking 245 persons to the Communist party was false in "some aspect" as to each individual.

2. Eastland announced that each of the 245 will be given an opportunity to defend himself. He said the subcommittee considered this should be done in justice to the individuals and to test whether Matusow was telling the truth when he tagged them with the Red label or was telling the truth now.

3. Matusow insisted he received about $600 for campaigning in 1952 for the reelection of former Sen. Cain (R-Wash) although informed that a receipt showed payment of only $150.

At the end of today's session, Matusow was excused as a witness temporarily, but told to be ready to come back when he was wanted.

Investigation Of Market Opens Today

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Sen. Fulbright cautioned stock market traders tonight not to get trigger-happy over an investigation of the market, starting tomorrow.

People who jump to conclusions on the basis of one day's testimony may find the next day that they "suffered from an excess of haste," said the Arkansas Democrat.

He is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which opens a three-weeks probe into the Wall Street boom. First witness will be G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Stock prices started zooming back in September, 1953, and have recently been rising to new highs. But Fulbright said:

"The basic issue . . . before this committee is not whether stock prices are too high, whether they can safely go higher, or whether they should be driven down."

He said the aim is to determine "whether the public interest is being safely and wisely served." Fulbright said the question was being asked everywhere "whether the wheel of history was about to make a full turn; whether a new stock market collapse of the 1919 model lay directly ahead."

"This committee is not in any present position to answer that question either in an encouraging or warning voice," he said in a statement prepared for opening of the hearings but released in advance.

"Nor would I, for one, even consider commenting on it until a long and careful survey of the facts is completed—if then."

However, he did assert that on the surface at least, "1929 and 1955 seem to present separate cases and not identical ones which are bound to repeat themselves in their consequences."

DON'T SMOKE IN BED

Smoking in bed can start a fire in your home. Be careful of this and other causes of fire. Don't overload your wiring system. Don't use flammable cleaning fluids. Don't let junk collect in attic and cellar. Don't let children play with matches; be careful with oil stoves!

First Performance Of Follies Scheduled Tonight At School

THE CURTAIN GOES UP on the first performance of the East Stroudsburg "Funnybone Follies" at 8:07 tonight in the Junior High School auditorium.

No effort has been spared to fill every minute with riotous fun, a spokesman for the Exchange Club said last night. The club is sponsoring the show.

Gilbert Dunning, alias "Groucho Marx," will be the emcee on Station FUN, where the action takes place. He will be aided by femme vocalist "Doris Day," in the person of Kathy Mertz. The latter will sing "Too Marvelous for Words" and "Earth Angel."

A "womanless" wedding will be held. In the cast will be Earl Palmer (playing an aunt), Ed Staples as an uncle, James Kester as the groom and Mike Jacobella as the best man; Don Albert as "Aunt Grace," Mose Serfass as "Babydoll," Pearly Hunt as the "jilted girl friend," Percy Marvin as a ringbearer, Elwood Smith as a maid of honor, John Skeldon as the bridesmaid, Ted Janusz as the justice and Adolph Rake as—the bride.

Others taking part in the "Follies" are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Burrus, Frank Blondo, Dave Smith, Nona McMurry, 30 high school girls, Dolores Lesoine, Nancy Evans, Frank Lanterman and Joseph Kulick.

The program will be repeated Friday night at the same time, same place. On both nights the show will end with a tribute to the flag—tonight by Rabbi William Fierwerker; Friday night by Rev. Harold C. Eaton.

Bobo Rockefeller To Sell Antiques

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Bobo Rockefeller, well known as a handler of bright, new dollars, is going into the antique business as a sideline.

The blonde ex-wife of multimillionaire Winthrop Rockefeller filed partnership papers Friday with Spencer Samuels, an art dealer.

The office of the antique business, to be known as the Barbe Antique Co., will be in the Empire State Building. Samuels was not available to give details of the venture tonight, and Mrs. Rockefeller left Saturday for Europe with her 7-year-old son, Winthrop Jr.

Mrs. Rockefeller, daughter of an immigrant coal miner, got a reported six-million-dollar divorce settlement from Rockefeller.

FOR TOP CADET—Just before takeoff time, Maj. John Szesze, public information officer of the New Jersey wing of the Civil Air Patrol, hands a trophy to stewardess Laura Esbich at New York's Idlewild airport. Trophy will be flown to Holland for youth chosen CAP cadet of the year.

TO MARKET, TO MARKET—Rare sight which greets the tourist in Mexican village of Ixmiquilpan are these Otomi Indians with their gunny-like knapsacks harnessed to their foreheads. They're en route to city to sell their wares.

HAVING A BALL—Gina Lollobrigida, Italy's glamor queen, receives another award, this time as the "Space Girl of 1954" for garnering more space in foreign publications than any other Italian personality. Max Berger, (right), president of Foreign Press club, makes presentation at a ball.

THIS VILLAGE IS AN ICEBOX

School teacher Mrs. John Quinn (left) waits for Mrs. Harry Tapley to shovel a path so she can visit snowbound house.

IN SUMMER, city dwellers may go to the Adirondacks to escape the heat, but in the winter many move out to escape the cold—at least they do around Forestport, which is earning title of New York's "icebox." Forestport, a village in the central part of the state, recently registered a temperature of 42 degrees below zero, making it probably the coldest place in the state. Our bundled-up photographer went to Forestport to see how the natives fare in such frigid weather. If you're shivering where you live, look at these pictures and relax.

Paul Rose points to crack in garage wall after cold came.

Icebox seems to be featuring frozen auto on the menu.

NO TAIL LIGHT?—In Progresso, Yucatan, it is the custom to place the front license plate on the head of the horse. Wonder if they have parking meters for horses there?

A LONG PULL—West German president Theodor Heuss is getting his money's worth with the long-stemmed pipe he is enjoying. Closeup was made when he attended a meeting of ship owners and trade officials in Bremen, Germany.

FOR FALLEN STEEPLE—A giant white oak tree, which was believed to have stood for well over 200 years, lies on its side after feeling the bite of the saw. The oak will be cut into beams for the main support in rebuilding of the historic Old North Church steeple which toppled in Boston.

INSPIRING—Glamorous Norma Sykes, just chosen for a leading role in a British television series, is an inspiring story in herself. It's hard to believe that Norma has been moving in and out of hospitals for four years with polio.

Substantial Advance Pushes Stock Market To Second Straight New All-Time High

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—A vigorous advance today took the stock market up substantially to its second straight new all-time high. The rise primarily was centered in railroads and steels, and there also was excellent support for the rise from oils, motors, coppers, utilities, aluminum issues, and a long list of individual stocks. Gains of 1 to 3 points were frequent, and some went much farther. Aircrafts bore the brunt of the declining side of the market. All losses, however, were relatively small.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.40, the best in a month, and closed at $162.00, a new historic high.

A week ago the market hit a high and then sold off for the final two days of the week. Today's rise was the third in a row and the second straight all-time high.

The industrial component of the average was up $1.70 at $219.30, only a shade under its all-time peak of $219.50 established Feb. 11. The railroads were up $1.60 at a new high since 1929 of $129.50 while utilities advanced 40 cents to a new high since 1931 of $72.20.

The market wasn't especially broad with 1,229 individual issues traded of which 716 advanced and 292 declined with 143 new highs and 1 new low for 1954-55 touched.

Volume was the best of recent sessions at 3,370,000 shares. That compares with 2,830,000 shares traded yesterday.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on volume of 1,400,000 shares, the same as yesterday. Higher stocks included Calumet Oil, Colonial Airlines, Consolidated Mining, International Petroleum, New Jersey Zinc, and Webb & Knapp. Lower were Creole Petroleum, Kaiser Motors, and Pittsburgh Metallurgical.

Corporate bonds lagged. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were in demand.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

March was behaving like March yesterday in a frolicsome mood. Which was all right for the people who had their hats and hair anchored firmly but sort of rugged otherwise. Particularly for women who just came from the hairdressers.

Garbage pails, dust, old newspapers and all sorts of things that have been hiding under the shrubbery all winter also went on a world tour of the towns yesterday.

However, the thing that suffered most was that handsome street banner the Stroudsburg High Juniors had strung across Main Street advertising "Penny," their play to be given next week. It was an exceptionally large and clear banner, too, but by noon even the letters were in tatters.

However, it isn't likely that the townspeople can help knowing that there's a play going on. There are posters on restaurant tables and collars on ketchup bottles on the counters, all introducing Miss Penny Fringle in clever art work.

Publicity is a wonderful thing — and most of our organizations appreciate that fact. What they sometimes forget, however, is that in order to sell tickets somebody's got to go around asking people to buy and collecting the money.

No matter how enticing a program sounds, and even if it's for free, you can't get people out of their armchairs unless they feel they're doing somebody a favor by going.

Of course, that doesn't apply so much to high school juniors with an army of fathers and mothers and aunts and uncles and grandparents to rally around, but it does apply to other beneficiaries: Whether it's card parties, dances, plays, concerts, or even welfare drives.

Publicity at its best makes selling your project easier, but it's still the personal solicitation that gets the people out and the money in.

Chestnuthill Wins Monroe County League Title

Coolbaugh Fails In Playoff Battle

CHESTNUTHILL High School won the Monroe County League basketball championship for the first time in history last night by turning back a fighting Coolbaugh quintet, 58-48, before a standing room only crowd at East Stroudsburg High's gymnasium.

The victory climaxed a brilliant season for the blue and gold clad pupils of Coach Bill Frear, who turned out a championship quintet in his first year at the helm. Chestnuthill and Coolbaugh tied for the regular season crown with 12 victories and three setbacks, which in turn made necessary last night's special playoff.

Chestnuthill jumped off to a commanding 10-0 lead in the early moments of the first quarter, before Bob Sapp put the green and white uniformed Coolbaugh quintet into the point column with a driving layup shot.

The Frearmen elected to play cool, cautious basketball in the first half, shooting only when a good shot presented itself. This strategy on the part of Frear paid off as his quintet missed only two of its first seven field goal bids. Dick Bizousky, Dick Kreger, the most brilliant rebounder in the game, and little Harold Burkett, shifty number seven for the winning club, led the attack.

Coolbaugh, bidding for its first crown since 1940, pulled itself together in the late portion of the first period and scored nine points, while Chestnuthill finished the opening eight minutes with 16.

Jim Kinsley joined Sapp in a second half rush that enabled Coolbaugh to play Chestnuthill on even terms in the second quarter, although the latter enjoyed a 12-11 edge and went to the dressing room at halftime on the long end of a 28-20 count.

Coolbaugh, with Kinsley and Sapp driving the wagon, fought its way back into the ball game in the third period and late in the stanza deadlocked the count at 37-37 on a side court shot by Sapp, after Kinsley had pulled the charges of Coach Don Wismer up to 35 points on a three-point play.

But, just when it appeared as if Coolbaugh was going to burst into the lead, Burkett hit for two points on a driving layup and Bizousky scored two and Burkett came back with a brilliant field goal at the buzzer ending the third period to give Chestnuthill a 43-37 edge at the three quarter mark. Alert play by Chestnuthill made possible the last second score.

Sapp and Kinsley scored double-digits to cut Chestnuthill's edge to 43-41 early in the fourth stanza, but Kreger dropped two foul shots into the nets. Sapp and Bizousky traded field goals, Kreger hit from the floor and Burkett from the foul line to give Chestnuthill a 51-43 edge with three minutes and five seconds remaining.

Bizousky made it 53-43 at 2:45. Don Beck hit on a foul shot, but Coolbaugh kept fighting back as Ed Champney and Sapp hit on field goals, only to have Burkett convert from the field to make the count read 56-47, with one minute and five seconds still on the clock.

Dave Keiper converted a foul shot and Burkett came back with a field goal to make the score read 58-48, with 25 seconds still to be played. Kreger, after a brilliant display of basketball, particularly in the rebounding department, fouled out of the game at this point and received a huge ovation from both rooting sections. Al Krege replaced the big center in the Chestnuthill lineup.

Chestnuthill "froze" the ball for the last 25 seconds and the Chestnuthill rooting section poured on the court to congratulate the winning contingent. Frear was carried from the court on the shoulders of his jubilant players.

By winning Chestnuthill earned the right to oppose Coplay, Lehigh-Northampton League champion, in the opening round of the Class "C" District 11 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association playoffs on Monday, at Slattington's Smith Hall.

The victory also enabled the Frearmen to even the season mark against Coolbaugh, each team having won twice in four meetings. Chestnuthill will receive The Daily Record Trophy at tonight's Monroe County League banquet, to be held at the West End Fire House at 6:30 p.m. The Record annually gives a trophy to the championship team.

Howard DeNike, soccer and track coach at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, will be the guest speaker.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa., March 2 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania connected on 56 per cent of its shots tonight to down Penn State 85-79 and hand the Nittany Lions their first home court basketball defeat since 1951.

Bluejays Win Over Blackbirds

A STRONG first period enabled the Bluejays to defeat the Blackbirds in the National League division of the Stroudsburg Junior High intra-mural basketball program yesterday, 40-16. The game was played on the Stroudsburg High court.

The Bluejays jumped off to a commanding 12-0 lead in the first period and were never in trouble the remainder of the contest.

It was almost the same story in the second quarter as the Jays ran up a 12-4 advantage to lead at halftime, 24-4. The Bluejays went on to make certain of victory with a 6-4 edge in the third round and a 10-2 bulge in the final period.

The winning team didn't convert any of five foul shots, while the Blackbirds failed four times from the free throw line. Harold Miller and Roger Ray led the winning attack with 14 and 12 points each. Batron and Buck were tops in a losing cause with four counters.

Biagetti Leads Baton Rouge Open

BATON ROUGE, La., March 2 (AP)—Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, fired an eight under par 64 today to lead the qualifiers in the fourth annual $12,500 Baton Rouge Open golf tournament.

About 140 amateurs and the lesser known professionals were shooting for the last 70 places in the tournament on the 6,450-yard, par-72 Baton Rouge Country Club course.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frear, of Scranton, watched their son Bill coach for the first time last night and their presence undoubtedly had something to do with Chestnuthill's 58-48 verdict over Coolbaugh. Mrs. Bill Frear was on hand to cheer for her husband, as was Mrs. Donald Wismer, wife of the losing mentor.

Both teams appeared impatient the moment they reached the floor and play started five minutes ahead of schedule.

Trade Talks Mark Second Training Date

The Associated Press

A FLAT statement by Casey Stengel that the New York Yankees lineup is set except for one position, fining of the Kansas City Athletics and hint of a Chicago White Sox-Washington trade highlighted activities Wednesday in the major league training camps.

The gravel-voiced Stengel gave the boys a mild jolt when he announced at St. Petersburg that seven places on his club are set. The exception, he said, is shortstop where Phil Rizzuto has to beat out Jerry Coleman and Billy Hunter for the job.

"The one who looks best gets the post," added the Yankee manager, in effect tolling the end of his famous two-platoon system.

The trade winds blew at Orlando, Fla., where it was reported the White Sox had offered Washington five players for the Senators' third baseman, Eddie Yost.

The report was that Marty Marion, White Sox manager, was willing to give up shortstop Jim Bredeweser, third baseman Rocky Kire, catcher Clint Courtney, pitcher Bob Chakales and first baseman Jim Marshall for the veteran infielder, Marion was quoted as saying he'd sweeten the pot some more if the Senators talk business.

Cal Griffith, the Washington vice president, and Manager Chuck Dressen were said to be cool to the proposition. Elsewhere the training sessions moved along at a fast clip and Mike Higgins, manager of the Boston Red Sox, was so pleased with his athletes' condition that he said five-inning squad games may begin next week at Sarasota.

Late signings continued to dribble in. The Baltimore Orioles, at Miami Beach, received the contract of outfielder Cal Abrams, leaving only one Baltimore hold-out, pitcher Lou Kretlow.

Stengel, in assigning his Yankees to their proper slots, said Bill Skowron would be at first, Gil McDougald at second, Andy Carey at third, Irv Noren, Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer in the outfield.

"Yogi Berra will catch every day," Stengel added. He said hitting prowess may decide the shortstop regular. At Tucson, Ariz., Manager Al Lopez put the pressure on outfielder Ralph Kiner quickly by saying the erstwhile National Leaguer should hit at least 40 home runs this year. Discussing Ralph's 22 homers and 73 RBIs with the Chicago Cubs last year, Lopez said, "That wouldn't be good enough to make this squad."

There was the usual good and bad news about old and new injuries. At Vero Beach, Fla., Don Newcombe pitched to Brooklyn batters for 15 minutes and reported his right shoulder didn't hurt a bit. "Last year it was 2½ months before I worked that slowness out of my shoulder," the giant Dodger right-hander said, declaring he probably was over-anxious.

But Brooklyn third baseman Don Hoak lost a nail on his right toe when hit by a batted ball and will be out a couple of days.

Parents Watch Winning Mentor In First Basketball Contest

A long line of people continued to stream through the door during the first period. The line was half a block long 15 minutes before game time. It was the largest crowd to see a Monroe County League game in about 15 years.

Carl Majer, even though retired from the coaching ranks, was an interested spectator at last night's tussle. Majer led Tobyhanna Township High to four straight crowns before retiring.

John Kupiec and John Whitehead, varsity and junior high basketball coaches at Stroudsburg High, were present at last night's contest, as was virtually every coach in the Monroe County League.

Johnson's Diner, one of the most improved clubs in the second half of the race, held a 15-12 edge at the end of the first quarter and was out in front at halftime, 29-25, after holding a 14-13 edge at the halfway mark.

But, Stroudsburg turned on its power in the second half and rolled to victory by dominating the third round, 23-11, and coming back to cement victory with a 25-15 advantage in the last stanza.

Henry "Hank" Stietler led his mates to victory once again with 32 points Jim Wertheiser and Clair Bloss were the big guns in a losing cause with 21 and 16 tallies respectively.

Martin To Miss Season

FT CARSON, Colo., March 2 (AP)—New York second baseman Billy Martin won't be in a Yankee baseball uniform this summer, the Army announced tonight.

The star of the 1953 World Series, who is stationed here as a private, yesterday told newsmen he was scheduled to be released from the Army in October but under a regulation by which the Army is releasing personnel three months early, he expected to be out of Army uniform and into a Yankee suit by early July.

Bangor Meets Phillipsburg In Final Contest

BANGOR—Bangor High completes its 1954-1955 basketball season tonight in an exhibition contest with Phillipsburg High, at Phillipsburg. The junior varsity encounter is set for 6:30 p.m. and the main event at approximately 8 p.m.

The game was listed for earlier in the season but was postponed because of a snow storm made driving a hazardous occupation.

Coach John Heard announced last night that Don Keat, record breaking scorer, would be the only junior in the starting lineup. Keat is a center.

Seniors Wayne Pysher and Duane Miller will be at the guard spots, while Art "Bucky" Parsons, also a senior, will handle one of the forward posts. The other forward berth will be handled by either Wayne Landry or Ronnie Everett, both seniors. Both Landry and Everett is expected to see a lot of action tonight.

Underclassman who also may play tonight are Jim Warwick, Ed Traves, Dale Miller, "Jahby" Williams, Garry Strauss, Jim Freeman and Glen Heard.

Bangor is anxious to wind up the season on a winning note, after finishing the Lehigh-Northampton League race in eighth place.

Rubicini Wins 10th Straight

MIAMI, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Gus Rubicini, tough Montreal middleweight, ran his string of consecutive ring victories to 10 tonight by winning a split decision over Pedro Gonzales of Rankin, Pa., in a rough 10-round battle at Miami Stadium.

Rubicini weighed 156½, Gonzales 162½.

When Chestnuthill's players carried their coach off the floor at the end of the game it marked one of the very few times that such an outstanding occurrence of this type has ever been carried out in this area.

Sportsmanship by the players was at the highest level possible throughout the contest.

ESSTC Cagers Blast Kutztown

KUTZTOWN—East Stroudsburg State Teachers College's colorful basketball machine set a record and scored its eighth straight and 10th favorable verdict of the season last night by downing Kutztown State Teachers, 106-90. The game was played here on the winning club's home boards.

The Warriors, who have suddenly turned the boroughs of East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg into a supporting cast, blew the lid off the game in the second period and piled up 106 points, the most points scored by one team in the history of basketball at Kutztown.

George Heidenreich, one of the most underrated ball players in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference, kept the Streak-minded Warriors in the ball game in the early moments when the slightly built guard hit on his first five set shots. This spark set charging Charley German and company into high gear and the rest is history.

Heidenreich's shooting and the defensive work of Walter "Moore" Bjorn, injured eye and all, highlighted the first half for the Warriors.

Roger Coedvera, Kutztown forward, also set a record last night for the season as he added 33 points to his total. But the highly regarded Kutztown star was held to only six points by Bjorn in the first half. Bjorn didn't guard Coedvera in the second half and the sharp shooter went on to do all his damage in the third and fourth rounds.

German scored only two points in the first period, but finished with 15 at halftime and racked up 34 before the night was over, as he hit on 14 shots from the floor and six of 10 attempts from the free throw line. Heidenreich finished with 22 and Ray Kaseman 17. Five members of Coach Jerry Palala's club finished in double scoring figures.

The Warriors made good on 42 of 77 shots in the field, hitting on 20 of 39 attempts in the first half and 22 of 38 shots in the third and fourth quarters. It was the fourth time this season that ESSTC has bettered the century mark.

ESSTC, defeated five times this season, led at halftime last night, 48-37, and then went on to pile up a 28-21 advantage in the third round before being outscored in the home stretch, 32-30.

ESSTC ran up a 42-32 edge in field goals and made good on 22 of 31 foul shots. Kutztown found the range on 26 of 38 free throws.

The Warriors now own two verdicts over Kutztown this season.

ESSTC will shoot for its 11th win and ninth straight on Saturday night when the Warriors play host to West Chester in the Normal Hill gymnasium.

Tournaments To Decide NCAA Berths

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

TWO conference tournaments one playoff series and a half dozen regular-season games within the next three days are expected to settle most of the lineup for the 1955 National Collegiate basketball championship tournament.

But the selectors are likely to suffer a few headaches before they come up with the last two "all large" teams for the 24-team NCAA event and the 12th for the National Invitation tournament.

The most recent entries in the two big bowl-season tournaments were Southern Methodist, which became an automatic qualifier for the NCAA and the 14th team named when it won the Southwest Conference title Tuesday. The same night, Seton Hall, the 1952 NIT winner, was chosen for a repeat performance in Madison Square Garden.

The National Collegiate playoffs begin on the regional level next Tuesday, only one day after a couple of the key conference races end. The NIT opens the following Saturday and they'll both wind up March 19.

The Atlantic Coast and Southern Conference entries will be decided in eight-day tournaments, starting Thursday and winding up Saturday. Meanwhile UCLA and Oregon State, divisional winners for the Pacific Coast Conference, will engage in a two-of-three playoff for the championship.

Most of the other major conference races probably will be decided by Saturday night, although the Big Ten and Ivy League schedules run through Monday and there's a possibility that some of the others may end in ties.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

NOW THAT Stroudsburg High has won the inter-borough basketball championship with a 67-63 verdict over East Stroudsburg, heart beats are showing returning to normal. It might be a good idea to talk about Tuesday's game. We'll include little odds and ends that wouldn't normally be covered in a story dealing with such a game. It's tough to know just where to start, but I guess the best spot would be with Doug Shook.

Shook, a six-foot, four inch sophomore, stole the show for Stroudsburg, on a night ordinarily reserved for seniors playing their final game. Shook was brilliant in every sense of the word, especially during the first half. He did everything a basketball player is supposed to do—and then some. It was mostly due to Shook's fine work, not in scoring but in rebounding, that enabled Stroudsburg to pick up such a big lead in the first quarter.

Doug finished the contest with 28 points, 24 coming on field goals and four from the foul line. He drew down 18 rebounds and looked like an apple-pie-eater at work as he snatched the ball off both backboards time after time. There are many things we could say about the big sophomore, but I guess it is best summed up in the knowledge that Shook played the best basketball game of his varsity career. This scribe shouldn't have been surprised at Doug's showing, for Ray Kaseman, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College ace star, predicted just such a showing for Doug prior to the opening tap-off.

Bill Pensyl once again was East Stroudsburg's star, doing everything he could to turn the tide of battle in favor of the Cavaliers. Pencil scored 24 points, on seven field goals and 16 foul shots. He captured 13 rebounds, and all figures were high for the visiting team. Many people are blaming the fact that Pensyl missed nine of his last 11 foul shots for the East Stroudsburg defeat. But it must be remembered if Bill hadn't canned his first seven free throws the Cavaliers would have never been in the ball game.

Pensyl missed one easy field goal attempt, but made seven of the toughest shots you'll ever see made on a high school court. It must also be taken into consideration that Pensyl was among the most tired players on the court in the home stretch, as he raced up and down the court throughout the battle, picking rebounds off both boards. In fact, most of the way Bill was the only rebounder East Stroudsburg featured.

Both teams had two unsung heroes, at least they appeared to fill that role as far as this scribe was concerned. East Stroudsburg received a big lift from Jim Kinler, towering junior who will be heard from next season. Jim came up with his best varsity basketball game by scoring 11 points and filling in brilliantly each time he was inserted into the game. The other Eastburg standout was Bill Sommers. Although one of the smallest men on the court, Bill appeared to be in the middle of every rebound battle.

Sommers also kept the Cavaliers together with some fine floor play. Dick Little was the first of two unsung Stroudsburg stars. In this reporter's humble opinion, although Dick has performed better offensively in the past, his defensive work Tuesday night hit a new peak. Little covered Howard Smith, one of Eastburg's stars, like a blanket all night. Smith, who is the best rebounder in both boroughs, once again in my opinion, never had a chance to rebound Tuesday because of Little.

Smith, also one of the best shots in the two boroughs, needs a foot or two to get off his one-handed side court tosses. Three times he got the needed room and three times he hit for field goals. Otherwise he was the victim of Little's blanket-like guarding. Don Deibler, although held scoreless, was a ball hawk throughout the contest and captured eight rebounds, to help pace the Mountaineers. Other players of both teams deserve the world of credit, as everyone went all out in the season's finale.

The two comebacks registered by East Stroudsburg, although both met with failure, earned the club a lot of friends. The Cavaliers trailed by 12 points in the second quarter, but pulled up to a 33-32 deficit in the third. They trailed by 13 points early in the fourth, but were behind only by a 65-63 count with 30 seconds remaining in the game. Even while far behind, there was a strange feeling of confidence in the East Stroudsburg rooting section.

Nevil Fifth In Lehigh Valley League Scoring Race

Little, Shook Among Top Point Makers

DAVE NEVIL, senior member of the Stroudsburg High basketball team, finished as the number five scorer in the Lehigh Valley League for the 1954-1955 basketball season according to unofficial figures released recently by Bob Gouldner, well known Lehigh Valley sportsman.

Nevil finished the campaign with 228 points, in 14 league games, for an average of 16.3 tallies per game.

The Stroudsburg star finished right behind Joe Simcoe, Northampton, who averaged 17.5, and just ahead of Palmyerton's Jim Orave, who finished with an average production of 15.6 per contest.

Dick Little, Stroudsburg, was ninth on the list of top scorers with 200 points and an average of 14.3 per ball game. Doug Shook is number 13 with 182 and an even 14 tallies a contest. Little is a senior and Shook a sophomore.

Stroudsburg averaged 58.7 points a game on offense, but the opposition came up with 63.3 tallies a contest.

The Mountaineers finished the regular league campaign with seven wins and the same number of setbacks.

The current schedule calls for 27 performers in eastern sections of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. The season ends on Friday, April 1.

Crowe Keglers Take Over First Place

CROWE'S INSURANCE swept to the top of the Delaware Valley Bowling League last Saturday to cap a recent surge that brought the East Stroudsburg contingent from far down the list.

The East Stroudsburg keggers won seven of a possible eight points last night to take over the number one position in the standings by one-half point over second place Caputo's Service, a team that dropped four points to Crowe's club last Saturday.

Caputo's team has won more points, 35 to 33 and one-half for Caputo's, but the Phillipsburg club has lost 32 points, while the East Stroudsburg team has lost only 30 and one-half tallies.

Norton's Oil set a new triple record as it clung to third place, in front of the Phillipsburg Elks. Norton's club rolled a 3,091 match against the Elks.

Moscow To Battle Waymart For Wayne Conference Title

NEWFOUNDLAND—Moscow and Waymart, representing the Southern and Northern Divisions of the Wayne County Basketball Conference, clash here today at 8:15 p. m. for the championship of the loop and the right to represent the area in the District 12 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association tournament.

It will be an old story for Waymart, which has completely dominated the conference since its organization, winning five straight crowns. Moscow, on the other hand, has emerged as a power in the area for the first time in 10 years and will be making its first championship appearance.

Realizing that it would be a physical impossibility to accommodate all who want to see the game, Paul T. Tyler, commissioner of the conference, has found it necessary to restrict admission to the students and patrons of the two participating schools. All tickets have been sold in advance by the two schools. There will be no ticket sale at the door and positively no admittance except to ticket holders.

Waymart qualified for the all-important contest at the last possible moment, tripping Hawley Tuesday night, 63-50, to take the Northern half while Moscow, in control of the Southern Division most of the way, put on the wrap-up last Friday.

Winner of the contest will meet Milford, an independent, in the first round of the PIAA playoffs in Crane Armory, Carbonate, next week.

Churchill's Outline Of Atomic Relationships Doesn't Coincide With His Recent Statements

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
Winston Churchill spoke earnestly and with knowledge Tuesday of the world's atomic relationships.

McMichaels

Tacy Kishpaugh

MRS. JOHN EVERETT and Mrs. Charles Stout and sons Donald and David visited Mrs. Horace H. Heller of Stroudsburg recently.

Mrs. Albert Murphy spent Tuesday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bonser.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Altomose and son visited Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bonser recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stout, children Donald, David and Jessie and Lucille Naugle motored to Trenton, N. J., last Sunday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Young and William Hancock.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Heller of Stroudsburg and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Switek were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Everett, Albert Everett and son Harley recently.

Albert Everett and son Harley visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Frailey of Scotrun.

Walter Stout and son Bobby of Lind Gap visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stout Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Everett called on Mr. and Mrs. Russell Barry and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Frailey Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Altomose, children Linda, Wanda and Kim visited the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bonser Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Everett spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stout and family and Lucille Naugle.

Feb. 21, 1954, the U.S. Air Force dropped 3,000 tons of bombs on the Nuremberg marshalling yards—the largest weight of bombs ever to be dropped on any single target.

yet somehow there is something unsavory about the juxtaposition of some of his recent statements.

Churchill pointed out to Commons just the other day, quite frankly and truthfully, that because the United States has relationships with the Chinese Nationalists and Britain does not, because Britain is not directly connected and not likely to be connected with any fighting in that area, Britain is not called upon to make decisions on the subject which the United States must make.

It was a clear appeal for calm British consideration of American policy at points where there is conflict. But it also was an indirect reminder that the United States can expect no help in the area.

Tuesday Churchill, was telling Molotov frankly that he better not believe what he said recently about the Reds being the ones who have atomic superiority and who would survive an atomic war. The United States, he said, is the only one really equipped so far for such a conflict.

It was a needed and timely warning, one which the aged Prime Minister said he had the information to back up. He said the American H-bombs fixed Russia so she wasn't much better off in case of war than insular Britain. But taken together the intention not to help regarding Formosa. It sounds a little like "My Daddy can whip your Daddy."

Then again Churchill expressed a desire to reduce this dependence on the United States. British production of her own H-bombs would give her wishes greater weight in Allied circles, he said.

Perhaps this should be taken as a welcome aspiration to carry a bigger share of the load. But there is an inference, too, that the United States needs to be pressured, and does not consider British ideas on their merits.

Churchill is a great friend and interpreter of the United States to the British, and there is no suggestion of any change in this attitude. It is only a reminder that the different geopolitical outlooks of nations can lead them into some strange contradictions.

Senate Committee Rejection Of Tax Cut Bill Gratifying, President Tells Reporters

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he was highly gratified and delighted with the Senate Finance Committee vote against reducing taxes.

That was his response to a news conference question on the 9-6 committee vote yesterday which knocked a $20 income tax reduction per person out of the House tax bill.

Both Senate and House bills provide for keeping the corporation income tax rate at 52 per cent for another year, instead of allowing it to drop to 47 per cent, and both continue present excises on such things as automobiles, cigarettes and liquor.

Eisenhower had called the voting of an income tax reduction "fiscal irresponsibility" in a time when government spending exceeds revenue. The House Democratic leadership disputed him, and now the Senate Democratic leaders are planning a floor fight to vote the cut.

However, Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the Finance Committee, one of the strong opponents of the cut, said he was confident the Senate membership would not reverse his committee. Sen. Miliken (R-Colo.), top Republican on the committee, agreed. Senate debate may start Friday, or Monday.

Sen. Clements (D-Ky.), acting Senate Democratic leader, served notice yesterday that "the effort to obtain some relief for low-income taxpayer will be carried to the Senate floor and pushed as vigorously as possible."

Byrd said he thought the real fight would come when the bill goes to conference with the House. House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) used all his strength to nail down the $20 reduction in the House and it may be expected that the House members of the Conference Committee will try to make the house view prevail.

About 36,500 U. S. people were killed in motor vehicle accidents in 1954, nearly 2,000 fewer than in 1953.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 1. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Bangor Area School Board Hires Two

BANGOR — The Bangor Area Joint School Committee hired two new employees at its regular meeting last night. President David Stoddard presided.

Louis Guida, Roseto, was employed as a temporary professional worker in business education at a salary of $3,200 a year. He took over the duties last Feb. 10 replacing Mrs. Lois Nester, who resigned effective Jan. 31.

Guida is a native of West Bangor and a graduate of Rider College, Trenton, N. J. He had been a teacher at Blairston, N. J., for 2½ years. The board granted him permission to serve on the evaluation committee in evaluating Easton High School on March 8, 9 and 10.

The other new employee is Frank O. Smith, East Stroudsburg. Smith was hired for 94 days at the rate of $15 per day as a substitute teacher in industrial arts. He replaces Madison Owen. The latter resigned effective Jan. 31 on a disability pension.

Bills amounting to $116,143.92 were presented to the committee by the Bangor School District Board for money paid in advance by the district prior to Dec. 1, 1954 when the joint school budget was set up. No action will be taken on the bills until those of Roseto, and Lower Mt. Bethel are presented.

President Stoddard said the figures would be turned over to the finance committee for a review prior to the calling of a special meeting.

In other action, Mrs. Gladys Mace was granted sabbatical leave for the school term of 1955-56. The elementary teacher had asked for the leave to take work requested to complete her bachelor's degree in elementary education. She was given permission to begin studies at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College June 6.

Superintendent of Schools Donald B. Keat was given the authorization to negotiate a teaching contract with David Pritchard, Bangor, an applicant for a position at Bangor High. He has 8½ years teaching experience at Upper Perkiomen High School.

Hearings will be held Monday, March 7 before Judge Carlton Woodring in Northampton County Court to consider the appeals of

Increased State Subsidies To Hospitals Proposed By Dauphin House Republican

HARRISBURG, March 2 (AP)—The General Assembly was asked today to suggest to Gov. George M. Leader that he increase state grants to state aided hospitals by 50 per cent.

"It is imperative that appropriations to our state aided hospitals be made in the amount necessary for their continued effective operation," said Rep. Nolan P. Ziegler (R-Dauphin).

A resolution he offered in the House would "respectfully suggest that the governor in his budget recommend appropriations to the Welfare Department for state aided hospitals be increased 50 per cent."

"Unless the amount now proposed for the maintenance of state aided hospitals is substantially increased," Ziegler added, "it will result in a serious impairment of the medical and surgical services rendered to and the maintenance of persons entitled to free service who are treated in these hospitals."

Other bills introduced: Continue a teacher's salary when he is prevented from working because of accidental injury. Make it illegal for a person to sell a petroleum product for different prices in different sections with the intent of injuring a competitor's business.

Former Newsman Dies Of Wound
HONOLULU, March 2 (AP)—Claude Jagger, public relations counsel who formerly was an assistant general manager of the Associated Press, died last night of what police said was a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

He was 53. He had been a partner in the Hawaiian Economic service in recent years. Jagger was taken to Waiolua Hospital Monday night after a Navy man found him lying in the waters off Mokuia, on the northern end of Oahu Island.

Crude Oil Forecast

The dismissal of two Bangor teachers, Joseph A. Trigiani and Michael Sabatino. The men had been dismissed by the school district and appealed to the State Department of Instruction. The latter group upheld the dismissal. The hearing will be de novo.

Robert Earl Hughes is a real heavyweight champion.

Farmer Weighs 946 Pounds —And He's Still Growing

By GROVER BRINKMAN
Central Press Correspondent

BAYLIS, Ill.—Living on an isolated farm near this small Illinois town is the biggest man in the world. Or at least so Robert Earl Hughes believes. So far he has met with no competition. His weight on his last birthday—his 28th, incidentally—was 946 pounds!

That's right! Nine hundred forty-six pounds. Not a printer's error, but an actuality. Robert makes folk goggle-eyed. Humans just don't get that big! But here's one that did. And he's still growing!

Robert was a normal baby at birth, weighing 11½ pounds. But when he was but three months of age, he had a bad attack of whooping cough. Doctors believe that the paroxysms of coughing might have disturbed the balance of his growth controlling glands.

In any event, he was oversize at two; and by the time he was 10, his weight was 375 pounds. He kept going to an elementary school several miles from his farm home until he was in the seventh grade. By then he had tipped the scales at 550 pounds, and they didn't have a seat in school big enough for him. Furthermore, he couldn't make the walk to and from school.

Today, Robert is six feet tall, but he appears shorter, due to his immense girth. He wears size 11 shoes; finds tennis sneakers most comfortable.

Clothing must be made to order. It takes six yards of cloth, for instance, for one shirt. He has a 115-inch waistline. It's an exact yard across his huge arm, above the elbow.

Robert eats like any normal person. However, every bit of food seems to turn into fat. He's so big now he can walk with the aid of a cane, but only for a short distance. When Bob is home on the farm, he sits on a specially-made bench that will accommodate his huge frame. Nearby is his radio, to which he listens almost constantly. In the game room is his bed, an old-fashioned wooden bed that has been reinforced with steel to bear his immense weight.

One of Robert's biggest tasks is getting to town to get weighed. He can't squeeze inside a car, even a Cadillac. So the alternative is to hoist him aboard a truck. Even that is a problem.

Ordinary scales are too small for Hughes, so he must be weighed on commercial scales, normally used for grain, produce and livestock.

Robert is mentally alert, loves to receive and write letters. People from all over the country visit him. "At first they just stand there, staring," Robert says, "un-

Kiwanis Club Sees Film On Hunting Trip

A FILM on hunting highlighted the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon.

William P. Wells acted as program chairman. The film was furnished by Henry Kresge with Robert L. Weichel operating the projector.

The film covered hunting of game in Canada and in the United States to the Pacific coast by a father and two sons.

The scheduled speaker, Wesley Cooke, of the Pan-American Airlines, of Hackettstown, N. J., who was to have told of the moving of the body of Andrei Vishinsky, Russian delegate to the United Nations, behind the Iron Curtain by plane, was called to Rome yesterday.

Ray Price Jr., was welcomed back after hospitalization and it was announced J. Richard Altomose was back home after surgery at Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre. A get-well card was signed for Rev. Ralph H. Feltham, III at his home.

Walt Dreher and John E. Watt were welcomed back from Florida and Dr. Earl Willhoite was congratulated on a birthday. Dr. Willhoite and Numa J. Snyder had charge of the song period.

The Kiwanis officers and directors will hold their monthly meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel next Monday at 5 p. m.

Baltimore Mayor Is Renominated

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, the man who did most to bring big league baseball to Baltimore, scored a smashing personal victory in the city primary elections yesterday.

The peppery little Democrat outscored the closest of his six rivals by more than 2½ votes to 1 as he carried his choice for City Council president and comptroller in with him.

able to believe their eyes. Then they start asking questions—dozens of questions.

Last summer Robert toured the country with a circus. "Just for fun," he said. And that's what it was—plain fun. He got to travel, he saw a lot of people, new places things he couldn't have hoped for in any other way.

Hughes visited Chicago, parts of Kentucky, Indiana, Oklahoma and Texas. To a boy whose life has been spent in the confines of a single room, that was a treat indeed, and Robert hopes to repeat the performance this coming summer.

Doctors are amazed that he is alive today. "I'm not a good insurance risk," Robert said, "but I'm pretty healthy, believe it or not."
